Subject: Update on Theodore Judah Project

After several site and community meetings spanning many months, consensus has been reached with the vast majority of interested individuals regarding the expansion project at Theodore Judah. The project is defined as the relocation of the two-story modular building from 24th and Florin to Judah. The building will be located on the site in what has been referred to as the ‘quad’ area. Improvements will be made to the building to enhance its appearance and efficiencies as well as other site improvements. These improvements will require submission to the Division of State Architect which will increase the schedule for the project to roughly mid-2016.

The plan also entails utilizing three existing portables as temporary housing which will be moved to the fence line during construction. An additional portable will be placed on the campus to accommodate program expansion during the construction process. This portable will be relocated from another site. Construction at Judah would commence as soon as school ends in June 2015. In order to meet this schedule it is necessary to contract with an architectural firm to begin the process of preparing design and construction documents. We are fortunate that the firm that originally designed the two-story project at 24th and Florin is available to act as the architect of record on the Judah project.

The contract for their services will be placed on the next available Board agenda under consent for Board consideration. In addition, the CEQA (California Environmental Quality Act) process is continuing with public notifications expected in March/April 2015. The outcome of this process may result in additional modifications to the site or the project itself. It is unknown at this time what those modifications and associated costs, if any, may look like.
