Subject: Social Emotional Learning Summit

Plans are underway for an SEL showcase night featuring student performances and a two-day SEL professional learning. Both are aimed at continuing to build awareness of – and support for – SCUSD’s Social Emotional Learning initiative.

The showcase, “The Art of Caring,” is planned for 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Wednesday, March 2, at the newly renovated E. Claire Raley Studios for the Performing Arts (the former Fremont Adult School at 2420 N St.). Tentative plans call for light refreshments followed by student performances related to such SEL topics as relationship building and social awareness. We will provide more information as plans solidify.

The professional learning will be primarily aimed at our Youth Development staff and expanded day providers. It will be held February 3-4 at Antioch Church in Meadowview. The keynote speaker for Feb. 3 will be social justice advocate Matthew Boger, whose inspirational story was the subject of an Academy Award-winning documentary.
