LUBINEATS

AN EVENING OF INSPIRATIONAL CONVERSATIONS. BRINGING THE COMMUNITY TOGETHER,
EVERY THIRD THURSDAY.

FARM-TO-FORK

THURSDAY, MARCH 16
6PM IN THE MULTIPURPOSE ROOM

Families and Friends

are all welcome to attend the March installment of LubinTalks

LubinEats

Our topic for this month is Food and Family

How can we bring healthy food to the table for the whole family to enjoy?

How can we make eating together an essential part of our daily lives?

What tips are there to introduce new foods to our picky kids?

Join us in this important and appetizing conversation:

Thursday, March 16

6 - 7 PM

Multi-purpose Room, David Lubin Elementary

Guests include:

Aimal Formoli, head chef and co-owner of Formoli's Bistro

Ed Roehr, head chef and co-owner of Magpie Cafe

Amber Stott, founder and chief food genius of Food Literacy Center

Moderator:

Betsy Ronsheimer, DL's own fabulous 5th Grade Teacher

Overview of LubinTalks

David Lubin, a designated STEAM school, is a safe space for exploring and discovering new ideas. The diversity of the student body reflects the multiple ethnic, cultural, and racial heritages within Sacramento and the Sacramento City Unified School District. In order to foster life-long learning and a community that finds strength in mutual understanding, the school will host a series of discussions and on-stage interviews, LubinTALKS, to bring our families together to experience the inspiring stories of local innovators, scientists, educators, and thinkers. The monthly, family-friendly evening event aims to demonstrate for our youth the strength of community, the benefits of working towards goals, and the power found in hope.

Past conversations include:

Bernard Marks, a Holocaust survivor, and his amazing story of perseverance.

Jane Hastings, Liv Moe and Carlagaye Olson -- three local artists with inspiring messages of creativity and invention.
