PATHWAYS TO COLLEGE WORKSHOP

Preparing children for college often starts at home. For many parents, however, it is difficult to find the time to research the college planning process. Please join us for a morning of workshops which explore how parents can best prepare their child for higher education, no matter when they start in the preparation process.

- Have your questions answered by a diverse panel of education specialists
- Discuss the requirements for your child to enter the UC & CSU system
- Learn more about college financing programs, state grants, and college savings programs
