Comment:	Hello, My name is Alexandra. I am in the 7th grade and I have attended CCA since kindergarten. Some things that make CCA a good school are the amazing teachers CCA recruits that make you want to learn. For instance, Mr. Masters, our science teacher, is very hyper and highly caffeinated. He makes the class exciting and energetic. This year we have learned about genes, lights, rocks, etc. The work is challenging and hard but I always feel accomplished when I'm done. Another thing that makes this school a good school is the health and wellness videos posted on the Student Website. This shows how the school is making sure we are okay during hard times. Thank you for taking the time to hear this and please consider renewing Capitol Collegiate's charter! Happy New Year!

This school has taught my kids strong engagement of values such as discipline, punctuality, constancy and respect. This is why we need more schools like CCA. Thank you CCA for easy and open communication when it comes to subjects regarding my children's needs. CCA 🙌

Comment:	My name is Anna Miller and I am a 5th grade teacher at Capitol Collegiate Academy. I strongly support the renewal of the Capitol Collegiate Academy's Charter for the next 5 years. I'm proud to work at Capitol Collegiate because it has allowed me to develop my professional skills as a teacher as well as a leader. In my 5 years at CCA I have had the opportunity to teach amazing scholars and see outcomes that are a direct result of CCA's mission and core beliefs. I have personally seen so many scholars who flourish and achieve great things in our school program. I have also had the opportunity to lead student government, co-facilitate our Equity group, run student clubs, and plan many school wide events. I appreciate that I have the ability to make my school climate one that students and staff want to be a part of. It's because of these great opportunities that I choose to work at CCA.

Comment:	Hello! My name is Myan Nguyen, a seventh-grader at Capitol Collegiate Academy, and I have been a student here since 2013. I've seen how the school has evolved and how it is still improving. We have created a second family here at CCA, where we can trust and learn from one another. The teachers and staff have supported us and helped us reach our goals. CCA teachers do that by having clear lesson plans and thoroughly explaining the topics to us. The staff members also make an effort to know all of the students by name. They closely work with families to ensure the success of the students. There is still room for improvement, so CCA should be open for five more years to better itself. Thank you for your time today, and I hope you consider renewing Capitol Collegiate's charter to benefit us as students and the community.

Comment:	It is well known that the strongest teachers are the ones who never stop learning. At Capitol Collegiate Academy I feel honored to be a part of a community of learners dedicated to providing high quality instruction for each one of our students. At CCA, core teachers are members of content teams which meet weekly for collaboration and professional learning rooted in best practices. Each cycle, content teams use data to set instructional priorities that drive teacher development. Our doors are open at CCA in both physical and virtual classrooms, which allows teachers to engage in peer observations as a means to learn and grow from one another. Another key element of our professional development is using student data to reflect on our classroom instruction and adapt as needed. Most importantly, CCA teachers own their professional learning. They lean into collaboration and self-reflection which has powerful effects on teaching and learning.

Comment:	My name is Allison Volga and I am the Assistant Principal of Culture at Capitol Collegiate Academy. In my role, I work closely with our team and school community to ensure a safe, joyous and rigorous learning environment, where all of our students can learn. One of the many reasons that makes me proud to work at CCA is our team's commitment to providing individual supports for students both inside and outside of the classroom. Using our culture data and teaming structures, we support our students that need an extra level of social/emotional development, motivation, or habit building that will help them succeed. On campus you may see a variety of supports in action, from a pair of middle school students learning the skills of mediating a disagreement, to the Dean supporting a scholar on strategic breaks throughout their day so they meet their daily engagement goal, to a recess small group on how to manage disagreements in basketball. As distance learning became a reality, we quickly shifted our individual supports by creating a robust mentor program, matching our students with individual needs to a staff member that would continue this work with them weekly. Our individual supports have had a tremendous positive impact on our students' ability to access the learning that they deserve and we are committed to continue to grow our student support programs in the coming years. For example, this year we will be launching a mental health services program and piloting new SEL curriculums. If given the opportunity, I know that CCA will continue to serve all students and meet their individual needs.

My sons Jace and Jayden are in 7th and 8th grade at CCA, and have both been enrolled in the school since kindergarten. I have kept my sons at CCA because I feel it has been a successful school and I most definitely support the renewal of Capitol Collegiate's charter for the next 5 years. I support CCA because they have provided my sons a quality education in a safe and structured environment. The staff are very reliable in their parent communication regarding areas needing progress or praise and really preparing them to think of college and future career goals at a young age which is so valuable and important to me for my sons and essentially is important for our youth.

Comment:	The rigorous, engaging, and optimistic culture at Capitol Collegiate Academy is apparent to all who visit the school's campus. Anyone who steps into a classroom can tell that the academic experience is unique, and the academic results make evident that Capitol Collegiate Academy is truly changing outcomes for the students it serves. As a former educator and now board member of Capitol Collegiate Academy, I know that the school's success is largely made possible by the immense dedication of its staff, family members, and students. However, another critical part of the school's foundation and success is due to its strong financial standing. Since the school's founding, school leadership has placed a strong emphasis on fiscal responsibility, and a review of the school's financials reveals that the organization is in a healthy financial position. This means that the school has a reserve of resources to protect itself from unforeseen circumstances. This also provides the school with the opportunity to spend on the resources that will have the most direct and positive impact on student outcomes, whether it's through purchasing new curriculum, hiring additional staff members, providing additional trainings, or upgrading facilities. Capitol Collegiate Academy has an incredibly strong academic, cultural, and financial foundation that sets it up for continued growth. This continued growth will have a direct positive impact on the students and communities that the school serves. Renewing its charter will allow it to continue on its mission to prepare all of its students to compete, achieve, and lead in high school, in college, and in life. Thank you for your time.

Comment:	I support the renewal of Capitol Collegiate's charter because of the tremendous impact I am able to have on students as a 2nd grade teacher. Last year I had many challenging behaviors in my classroom and, with collaboration from colleagues, we were able to address behaviors and support student needs. I had a student who started the year with very low attendance, low work completion, and physical and verbal aggression. They ended the year with a perfect attendance month, reading on grade-level, sitting right up front, and raising their hand frequently. This change came about because staff at Capitol Collegiate are willing to do whatever it takes to best serve our students. We build strong relationships with our students, partner with families, and collaborate with each other to find and implement what it is our students need. This certainly does not happen everywhere-- Capitol Collegiate's charter should be renewed so that teachers and staff can continue to teach and support ALL our students.

Name:	Leslie Grundy
Comment:	My name is Leslie Grundy, I am the Director of Student Life at Capitol Collegiate Academy. I support the renewal of Capitol Collegiate's charter for the next five years. When I first started at CCA four years ago, we as a school were just starting to welcome our first group of middle school students. It was important to our leaders, students, and families that CCA offered a lot of the same opportunities as other middle schools in the Sacramento area. It was also important that these opportunities were driven by the needs and desires of our scholars. I am so proud to say that in the second year of our middle school being fully built out (6th – 8th grade) that our students' needs and desires continue to be our top priority even while we are virtual. Over the last four years we have been able to provide our students with a wide variety of clubs, electives, sports, an overnight science trip, volunteer activities, and leadership roles just to name a few. From these different opportunities I have watch students grow and blossom. The extra opportunities allow for students who might struggle academically to have a place on our campus where they can feel successful and that they belong. In my second year at CCA I witness the power that these extra curriculars have on students. That year we had a student join the Garden Club, it was from there that they gained the confidence to participate in class, even when the academics felt difficult. The student's behavior inside of the classroom also greatly improved. It is because of these opportunities that many of our students have invested themselves inside and outside of the classroom at CCA.

Comment:	My name is Brittany Coghlan, and I am an Instructional Coach at Capitol Collegiate. This is my third year at CCA and am grateful to work alongside such driven and committed teachers, staff, and administration. The administration works tirelessly to support instructional leaders and teachers to make a positive impact on students, on a personal and academical level. The teachers in K-2, whom I predominantly work with, show ongoing dedication to increasing reading achievement for our students. Visiting our campus during a typical year, you would see groups of students practicing phonics on the carpet while other students did independent literacy work and still others huddled around a table in a group of 6-8 having discussions about texts in a guided reading group. You would see students eager to take their next reading test to show off how much they have grown. Despite the unique circumstances of teaching in 2020-21, teachers have forged on and found new ways of skillfully meeting the needs of their developing readers. I have seen how much each individual at Capitol Collegiate cares about students and families, and that has further deepened my own commitment to the CCA community.

Hello

My name is vivianna Gutierrez and I would like to call in to make a public comment during the Capitol Collegiate Academy public hearing. I am a teacher there and my number is 916-643-9445. The Comment that I will read aloud is below:

As a first year teacher at Capitol Collegiate Academy, I have been lucky enough to be supported by a team that truly believes in helping the community. This year we all have faced several challenges. But I always think back to CCA's middle school prep values. The value that sticks out to me is perseverance . I have been lucky enough to have been supported by incredible educators who believe in the idea of equity for all, and administration that genuinely cares about me. The biggest struggle that first year teachers face is staying. As a first year teacher I have no doubt in my mind that CCA is a home for all. We do our absolute best to ensure everyone is welcomed, cared for, and supported. Life is not perfect, education is a changing system where we all have to adapt. The resilience of CCA is how it adapts and how it truly puts educators and students first. Without my manager or coach, or team, I think I would have been lost. I am so lucky to be a part of a group that has the same beliefs as myself. I am heard, I am accounted for, and I am respected. I feel that there is no greater reward than being a teacher, but there is no gift as fruitful as the sense of community that I feel with CCA. Before I leave remember this Nelson Mandela once said "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world" and at CCA our world is our students, staff, and community. Thank you.

Vivianna Gutierrez

I strongly believe this school has been a great asset to my childrens education Hernan has been coming here since Kindergarden. I have always had good communication with all of his teachers by phone, email or tex, Everybody here works together to provide the best Education. Teachers/staff are really engaged in Hernans learning, goals, and help with areas in need of improvement with out hesitation. Christoper also has been here since kindergatin he was diagnosed with ADHD after his first year here and has a IEP plan in which the school follows thoroughly. From being there for him in his meltdowns to having all his teachers including Mr. Bastian always backing him up and having plans for him in all areas of Education and Special needs, I have learned to grow respect and appreciation towards everyone at capital Collegiate, I cant see my kids going to a different school where they don't know them at this point. Both Hernan and Chris feel really comfortable knowing all of the teachers/staff know who they are and even Cristin Fiorelli she is the best principal, Every morning she would greet every single child that came in that door by their name, this is priceless. Its like family here to us . I ask in the most respectful manner to Please renew our continuation of capital collegiate.

From Kindergarten to 2nd grade my son attended a public school. He excelled highly but the school kept him behind so he would get in trouble because he would be bored. And it was obvious the lack of attention and care I expect for my child. I came across CCA and knew this was the school for us. As him getting to college is extremely important I knew he needed a school in his league but I cannot afford a better school until I came across Capitol Collegiate Academy! The name said it all! My son has been with CCA since 3rd grade and has excelled tremendously since! His lists of achievements at CCA every year are highly exceptional and impressive! CCA has been a huge impact because what they represent and the absolutely amazing staff and extraordinary education they provide. I wish CCA had a high school as well because I do not want my son to leave! CCA makes Sacramento a better place for these kids! They are installing bright futures in these kids! Please renew CCA for another 5 years! They are necessary in our community! I rave about this school to everyone I know because it is everything a parent wants in a school! Especially us families who cannot afford private schools! Our children deserve the best educations, bright futures and a staff who really cares about them and who they become. CCA provides it all! Thank you for your time. Take care, Shannon Wood
